

inherited

inherited

inherited

when a
characteristic is passed from
parents to their
young

environment

environment

environment

the
surroundings in
which an
organism lives

species

species

species

a certain group of
plants or animals
that can only
reproduce among themselves

offspring

offspring

offspring

the young of
an organism

traits

traits

Freckles

No Freckles

traits

Freckles

No Freckles

characteristics
that determine
how an organism
looks, acts, or
functions

variations

variations

variations

differences in the appearance of an inherited trait among the members of a group (species)

survival

survival

survival

the
continuation
of life

instincts

instincts

instincts

behaviors that
are inherited
from the parent
organism

population

population

population

the number
and kind of
organisms in
an area

specialized structure

specialized structure

specialized structure

a body part
unique to a
species for
survival in its
environment

organism

organism

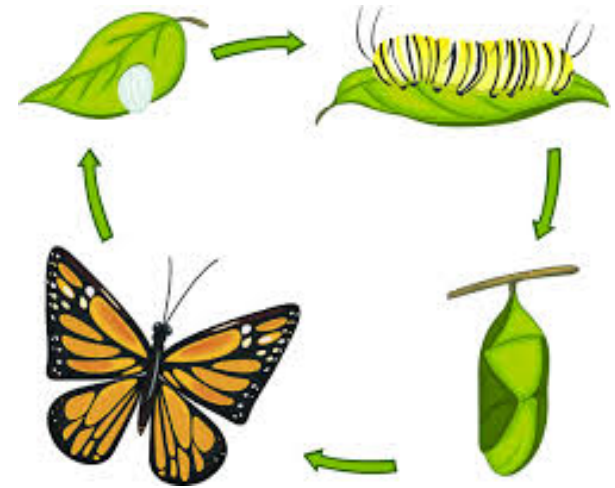

organism

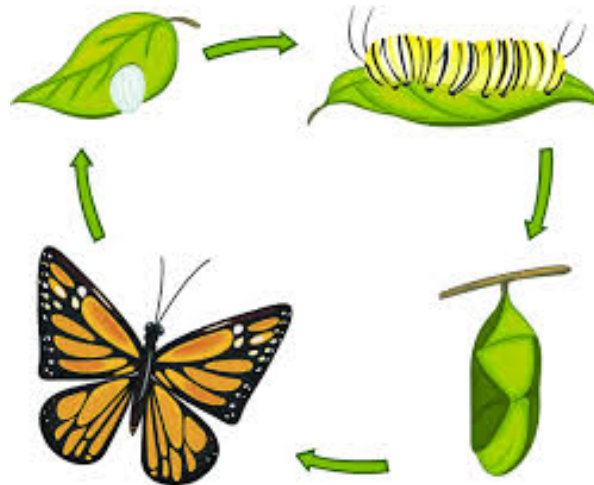

any living thing
that can carry
out its activities
on its own

life cycle

life cycle

life cycle

the stages a living organism will go through during its lifetime

parent organism

parent organism

parent organism

a producer
of offspring

learned behavior

learned behavior

learned behavior

an action that is
learned through
trial and error or
is brought about
by the
environment

